Electronic Government: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Ari-Veikko Anttiloiko
University of Tampere, Finland
Related Content

E-Mexico: Collaborative Structures in Mexican Public Administration
www.irma-international.org/chapter/mexico-collaborative-structures-mexican-public/21301/

Enabling M-Government in South Africa: An Emerging Direction for Africa
www.irma-international.org/chapter/enabling-government-south-africa/9989/

One-Stop Government Portals: Transformation or Navigation?
www.irma-international.org/article/one-stop-government-portals/95106/

Information Technology and Administrative Reform: Will E-Government Be Different?
www.irma-international.org/article/information-technology-administrative-reform/2009/

Survey of Citizens’ Perceptions in the Adoption of National Governmental Portals
www.irma-international.org/chapter/survey-citizens-perceptions-adoption-national/55789/